What is the intended benefit of the rule?

The intended benefit of chapter 28 is to describe the policies and procedures applicable to the rural housing needs assessment grant program. The program supports community efforts to interpret hard data with supplemental information and to help communities implement changes to development codes, local ordinances, and housing incentives according to the community's needs.

Is the benefit being achieved? Please provide evidence.

Yes. The authority is able to effectively award and administer grants through the program.

What are the costs incurred by the public to comply with the rule?

Entities interested in applying for the program may require staff time to complete an application to receive an award. Recipients of grants may similarly incur costs to comply with reporting and monitoring requirements of the program. Some applicants/recipients may choose to rely on an external service provider to complete these tasks, such as a grant writer or other consultant. The amount of the costs will vary, depending on the compensation of staff or service providers involved. The application and reports require minimal time to complete.

What are the costs to the agency or any other agency to implement/enforce the rule?

IEDA staff time is required to review and prepare applications for approval, draft and execute program contracts, disburse funds, review reports, and communicate with program applicants and recipients.

Do the costs justify the benefits achieved? Please explain.

Yes. Only entities that will potentially benefit from the program incur any costs. The costs to the state to administer the program are proportional to the activities incented.

Are there less restrictive alternatives to accomplish the benefit? YES NO

If YES, please list alternative(s) and provide analysis of less restrictive alternatives from other states, if applicable. If NO, please explain.

The application and administrative requirements of the rules are no more than necessary to implement the purposes of the program.

Does this chapter/rule(s) contain language that is obsolete, outdated, inconsistent, redundant, or unnecessary language, including instances where rule language is duplicative of statutory language? [list chapter/rule number(s) that fall under any of the above categories]

The authority will establish a maximum grant award per application and a minimum grant award per application for each fiscal year in which funding is available.
